The Police Department is Relocating

The San Bruno Police Department will be permanently relocating to a new police station on September 9, 2002. The new station will be located at Police Plaza, 1177 Huntington Avenue, adjacent to the Tanforan Shopping Center and the new BART station.

The new station will be accessible to residents from the newly configured intersection at Sneath Lane and Huntington Avenue. Due to the construction around the BART station, access will initially be limited. Citizens can enter the lobby by parking on the West side of the new police station near the Sears building.

Our new police station will provide state of the art communications, records, evidence processing and much more. Residents can be assured of the same quality service that they have come to expect from the members of the San Bruno Police Department.
